

Leadership is Critical in Mainstreaming Sustainability in Professional Education

Olweny, Mark (2021) Leadership is Critical in Mainstreaming Sustainability in Professional Education. Building and Cities . ISSN 2632-6655

<https://www.buildingsandcities.org/insights/commentaries/leadership-education-sustainability.html>

Abstract

Mark Olweny (University of Lincoln) comments on the B&C special issue EDUCATION & TRAINING: MAINSTREAMING ZERO CARBON. Leadership in Global South demonstrates the positive transformation of architectural education. The Uganda Martyrs University implemented a new curriculum to integrate sustainability into the architectural curricula. Change occurred due to staff dedication, commitment and stamina - although overcoming resistance at several levels was not easy.